Sales Subscriptions

POS & Sales · https://spos.pk/docs/sales-subscriptions/

A sales subscription is a sale that repeats on a regular basis, for example a monthly delivery of the same items to a regular customer. Instead of creating a new sale from scratch each time, Smart POS can repeat the subscription sale on schedule and bill the customer each time it is due.

Sales subscriptions

1. Create a sale for the customer with the products they want to receive regularly, and save it as a subscription.
2. Set how often the subscription repeats, for example weekly or monthly, and the date the next sale is due.
3. Confirm the customer's payment details and how each repeated sale should be paid.
4. When a subscription sale falls due, Smart POS generates the sale, and you can deliver the products and take the payment.
5. Check the subscription list regularly, and pause or stop any subscription the customer no longer wants.

Tip: Review your active subscriptions at the start of each month, so no customer is billed for a service they have asked to stop.
